DESCRIPTION
"Since his recent works were to be exhibited at Montréal's Galerie Noctuelle in May, 1985, John Mingolla asked me to draw a portrait of his work, the context within which they were produced, and himself in this context", explains Marc Paradis.

The result is a vision that is jerky like the music, very lively and sensitive in relation to the artist. This videotape was broadcasted continuously during the entire exhibition in May, 1985, at Galerie Noctuelle and was also featured at Galerie Horace in Sherbrooke, in February of 1986.
