DESCRIPTION
Conte à rebours is the story of two 17 year old girls who, until now, saw the world through the same eyes. But with the passage of time, the widening gap in their lives eventually shatters their friendship into a thousand pieces, akin to the act of dropping a bottle of pills. This fiction, with its documentary-like quality, was entirely produced by and for teenagers. It is a proclamation, a tool for reflection, which leaves no room for indifference.
