DESCRIPTION
This video introduces us to a religious community made up of individuals and families who live together under the same roof and share a way of life based on Catholic ideology. This is a positive portrait of the community which is described by its inhabitants as a big family. Members give their personal reasons for joining, their conversion to Catholicism, and their religious practices. One of the founders describes how the “Tower of David” was created when a group of young people on a spiritual quest left the hippie lifestyle for a life based on Catholicism.
