DESCRIPTION
Part animal and part human against a coloured background. We suppose that we are in an underwater world at the time of the earliest order of life. From there, these two molluscs engage in erotic play. A second, abstract part leaves us completely free to imagine the rest. It's a little like looking through half-closed eyes, the image is fuzzy and sounds carry us in our fantasies to lands of ecstasy. We hear the little sounds our body makes, the small discreet touches of a rapport. We listen to breathing, murmurs and silences.
