Vithèque
La collection
de Vidéographe

RAKE

DIRECTOR
Katherine Liberovskaya

DURATION
35:00

YEAR
2015

ORIGINAL LANGUAGE
No dialogue

CATEGORY
Video Art

DESCRIPTION
A hypnotizing extreme close-up of the boundary between sand and water through the tines of a rake. The raked sand forms constantly changing organic shapes endlessly rising from the ground and crumbling while different bodies (shells, small jelly fish, stones…) get caught and released in the path of the rake's progresses.

SHOOTING FORMAT
HD

FURTHER INFORMATION

Created during a residency at iii/Studio Loos, Den Haag, Holland, 2015.

KEYWORDS
Duration, movement, nature

THEMES
Art and culture