DESCRIPTION
The Coldest Day of the Year takes place in a future where there has been a cataclysmic event that has made tracing a coherent meaning of the past and recounting a narrative of the present impossible. The narrator believes she has seen another being in this destroyed landscape. She attempts to find this figure and recounts a journey that traces the shadows of her presence. Using temporary sets, props and collaged images, The Coldest Day of the Year recounts an attempt to understand an ever-shifting horizon and possibility of dwelling.
